Mr. F. F. Elmendorf, President Citizen MY DEAR SIR:-I regret that I could not omply with your wishes and speak on the license question" when you met with the ween ten business houses and ten salogns We find from the Assessor's books that en representative houses, in five different his own means to gain his ends, but in this lines of business, viz: Marshall, Field & lines of business, vis: Marshall, Field & Co., J. V. Farwell & Co., dry goods; Reid. Murdoch & Fisher, Sprague, Warner & Co., groceries; C. E. Henderson & Co., M. D. Wells & Co., boots and shoes; H. A. Hohn & Bro., C. P. Kellogg & Co., clothing; Hibbard, Spencer & Co., Wm. Blair & Co., hardware, psid taxes last year to the amount of $116, 555, 12; these were in addition to their real estate taxes, which were probably as much more.

We find by indirect inquiry that these concerns had about 5,000 clerks and employes.

We earnestly advise all our realers to call and take a look through Mr. Colhoun's immense new spring and summer stock, at 109 Summit, when in Toledo. Popular prices and fair dealing makes his store a favorite with all.

none of these taxes are paid, and probably but a small per cent. of them can be col lected. We will reckon that $520 has been re ceived from them for licenses.

We will estimate four employes in each

We have then from the ten mercantile houses a record of $116,565,12 cash received and employes to the number of 6,000.

From the ten saloons $520, and bad debts $53.72, and employes forty. We further find, and we are leaving out we turner ind, and we are leaving out entirely in the discussion all moral and re-ligious views, that in the main so far as the influence of these ten business houses extended, they advanced the value of real extended, they assisted other business, and stimulated trade in all directions. In the main we find that so far as the influence of these ten salooons extended they lowered the value of real estate. They did not assist other business nor did they stimulate trade. We find that in the ten saloons ther were ten murders committed last year, one in each saloon. We have been at some pains to find the average expense of a mur-der, but can not arrive at any satisfactory onclusion, and leave it indefinite On lawyer of good standing, with extensive acquaintance and practice, has made an estimate of the average expenses of a mur der trial, including salaries, interest on in vestment for jails, etc., to be $13,000.

Another authority thinks a fair estimate would be under rather than over $2,000 in this county.

We also find that the proprietors several of these saloons were arrested for selling liquor to miners, and were in other ways an expense to the city and county. I submit that it is not fair, not good bu iness principles nor good sense, to so conduct our city and county affairs that these ten firms were required to pay these taxes of $116,500 while they were furnishing direct and to the city's prosperity, and these ten saloons have paid the small sum of $520 cosh and a bad debt of $53.72, and Rising from these saloons and ten firms selected as examples, and comparing the entire liquor interests, wholesale and retail, with the other interests in the city, we again find a str.king contrast.

The total taxes assessed for last year were a little less than $6,000,000. Of this amount all the wholesale and retail liquor mount all the wholesale and retail liquor dealers and saloon keepers combined were asked to pay less than $12,000.

In other words, the average personal tax paid by one of the ten above mentioned arms was more than the entire personal taxes assessed upon the 3,600 satoon keep-ers and the wholesale liquor dealess be-The amount paid by the saloon keepers for licenses last year was $152,226,40. Add to this less $12,000 for taxes, and we have a possible sum received from these interests of $194,000. esis of $194,000.

I submit again that it is not fair, not good business principes, nor good sense to require our lumber, dry goods and hardware merchants—in short, our mercantile and manufacturing interests, and especially our real estate, to bear such heavy bur dens of taxes while the branch of business, which so adde to the wairit of the surface.

which so adds to the weight of the burdens, onys so little.
Our yearly expenses(except educational) should, as far as praticable, be paid for by those who cause them. Two of our leading dailies, the Tribune and Inter Ocean, have recently stated that saloons caused three-fourths of all the crime. This statement has not, I think,

een openly denied.
The Cincinnati Gasette recently made similar general statement, which was called in question by a subscriber. Being put to the proof, the Gazette not only made its statement good, but added 6 per cent to it, showing that 81 per cent, of all the crime for the last three months of last year came from the saloons.
